I really struggled in what to write about for this report. I sat at my keyboard last night at 9 pm still at a loss for words. I feel like the hardest part of the year is over. (At least I hope it is) As we move into Spring and the world reawakens I hope we can follow suit.

Since our last meeting I've met with a few more Units. I have three more Units (including my own) that I still need to meet with. Thank you for the hospitality and wonderful company at each of your meetings. I love getting to hear the unique events happening at each Unit.

We've gotten through the holidays. As a family we got to go on a couple short vacations and somehow one of the four of us ended up with Covid. Hailey is totally fine, only had minor cold symptoms, and is very excited to be back in school. She is also very very excited to go to Mission Training for Juniors in Las Vegas next weekend. She's grown up with us and is enthusiastic to learn about what we're doing at these meetings and what mom does at work all day.

Last weekend I went to Mid-Year DEC in Long Beach. It was a busy and exhausting weekend. I had to make the decision to place Unit 121 Edward H Lorensen on Probation. I have reached out to Michelle Sanchez multiple times over the last two months, both via email and call and have not heard back. They were in the process of giving up their charter. I still have their membership cards and no one has reached out for them.

Respectfully Submitted
